

Literacy

This week for literacy we have been focusing on different animals of the ocean. We have been looking at the different features of the animals and the environment they live in. We also have been listening to the sounds the animals make when communicating with each other.

Have your child watch and listen to the following video. Can they identify the different sounds of the sea animals. For each one your child gets right have them draw the animal in their homework books. And also use their phonics sounds to try and label them.

\(321\) Sea Mammals and their Sounds - YouTube

